A FAITHFUL TIGER.

An amusing scene occured the other day at the citadel of Dover. The 102nd Regiment have a very fine tiger just come to this country with the regiment from India. He is very tame, and is daily taken for a walk, and he also gose round the mess table getting tit-bits. The other day his keeper got the worse for drink, and made his way to the deep, fearing detection. An officer seeing that the man lay asleep, and the tiger sitting by him, sent for the picket, who at any other time can do what they please with the beat. The moment they attempted to go near the keeper the tiger growied, and very soon let them see they must keep off. For two hours the tiger kept guard over his keeper, who on awakening, was surprised to see no one dared come near his

CRICKET MATCH.

CRICKET MATCH.

A splendid game at cricket came off at Neemuch on the 27th ultime, between the officers 2nd European Regiment vs. Station Eleven. The play commenced with the station, who secred, in both innings 110, their opponents 86, the former winning by 24 runs. The Return match was played on the 1st instant, when the Station only acored 131, their opponents, the officers, winning by 8 runs.

CRICERT is now quite a rage among us. Great men and little men, septagenarians and boys, are alike affected by the mania. We have the Jurenie Club, Union Club, Station Officers' Club, the 3rd Club, the 4th Club, the Artillery Club, and the Club of all Clubs, the Parsee Club, which last practice regularly near the 4th Lines, and have been challenged by the Jureniles, composed of little men ranging from 2 to 3½ feet high: still brave little fellows they are, and the odds are in their favor, for it is known that at a scratch match in which six of them played against six of the Parsees on Wednesday last, the results were:—

and five of their six vickets to go down.

A most remarkable feature in the Parsee players is that ten out of the eleven are left handed. They bat well, but are not good fielders owing we fancy to the nervous fear they have of getting their corporations burt! Instead of holding their hands out to catch balls they cover their pannelses with them in the same way that people not accustomed to sparring put up open hands to aheld their faces. But this will wear off in time, and the Zoroastrians be proud of the 11 Roostums who represent them in the Cricket field.—Our Paper July 28.

STAMPEDE OF ELEPHANTS.

The fêtes at Munich in henour of the centenary of King Louis I, were marred on Tuesday (July 31) by a sericus misfortuna. There was a magnificent procession, in which nearly ton thousand persons took part, it started from the Caristher at about nine o'clock in the members of the royal family were a sembled. Heralda, knights, and tempeters headed the throng, which included the students' corps, the town guilds, the various associations of Munich, the culculars belonging to the artistic and scientific institutes, representatives of local and foreign art, unious and corporations, men in the contumes of the middle ages, pages, veterans, and children, deputations from twenty-six towns, and finally a detachment of the Munich Fire Brigade. Splendid weather favoured the spectacle, and a dense mass of people lined the pavements of the broad Ladwigstensee, whilst at all the prominent points stands had been erected, which were filled to the highest tiers. Eight clephants and four dromodaries from Hagenbock's Circus took part in the procession. Just as the procession had passed the Regent's tent the elephants enderly came upon a steam car which represented a dragon amorting and spitting fire. The first two elephants reddenly came upon a steam car which represented a dragon amorting and spitting fire. The first two clephants pricked up their cars and trumpeted with fright, thas alarming the six who followed. With a plange they broke the chains that bound their legs. The men seated upon them were unable to control the Everybody attempted to ecoape at once, with the result that the stand gave way, and the cooupants were finally captured in the arcades of the theats with the assistance of cavalry, and were surrounded and tied with ropes. Four persons were killed and about twenty severely injured.

HOW THE TIGER JUMPS.

MAJOR C. N. COCK writes as follows to be Civil and Military Gazette from Shillong:—There has often been a paper warfare carried on regarding the question as to the power of a tigor to jump off the ground with all fours to any height, and as any information bearing on this question may be interesting to your readers, let me give them my experience.

Last Saturday night Mr. Mann, the Censervator of Foresta, very kindily rode over to my house and told me that a tigor had our ried off one of the Government bulls at the Model Farm, that it was the finest bull, and there could be no doubt as to being a tiger and not a leopard. I at once wrote to one or two gentleman near, and arranged to go after him the naxt day. As no elephants are procurable, I called for volunteers to beat, and about 150 Goorkhas and Selizs from the 42ad Beginsent jorfully came forward to assist in the tumasha, armed with aspears and kookarise. On Sunday morning at 10 a.m., a small party, consisting of Mr. Stevena, Mr. Ingila, my brother, and myself started for the ground, and after a four mile gried up-hill we reached the peak which (as you know, Mr. Editor) is the highest point in Shillong, and which has a small scored grove about 2 acres in action on its westerm long. Here we found a gentleman of the survey sitting distanced for about 160 men with na he gave a shout for joy, then my had, who rose on our approach in the grove, but that without slainess with and the peak when the survey is the survey and the survey is the survey of the s

my left barrel and stood undescided for a second whether to go down the nullah or back to the grove; it then got a third shot at imm as he so why turned into some reeds at the edge of the he so why turned into some reeds at the edge of the he so way turned into some reeds at the edge of the he so way turned into some reeds at the edge of the he so way to wards Mr. Stevens (who had also and went down towards Mr. Stevens (who had also and went down towards Mr. Stevens (who had also and went down towards Mr. Stevens (who had also bear and so he so well on the sound of the grove, and the Joundar was brought up, and we anxiously examined his wounds; he had been seized by the upper part of his left thigh, and though he had four ugly flesh wounds no hone was broken and his femoral artery had secaped damage, so we bound him up and sent him off to cantonment in a rude improvised dooile. Two besters now came forward, who declared the tiger had gone back through the grove and over the hill, buil was certain he was then a few yards from as in the little belt of reeds that fringed the grove at this part, the reeds were too thick and high to see into, so i and Mr. Walkam taking up the trall went up to the reeds, the blood had flowed plentifully, and we saw he must be severely wounded. Two Goorkhas with kookaries were down in front of us, out down the reeds as we advanced covering them with our rilies; we hadn't gone any yards when a deep roar close in front caused a general flightand showed us where our friend was; as it was unaless going up to him in this covert, we bending down in front of us, out down the reeds as we advanced covering them with our rilies; we hadn't gone and the sensy, to see what the sense of the sensy, to see what the sense of the sens
